Comment: Returns from a one-month let-up after finishing last on debut at Beaudesert, beaten over 15 lengths after settling rearward and losing touch before the turn. She was unwanted in the market there and had no obvious excuse in the run. Has to find a lot more.

Comment: Debuts with three trials behind him, the latest a close second at Gold Coast over 5f, so there is at least some readiness in the profile. Paul Shailer has a sound debut record from the figures supplied, but this gelding still has to produce it under race pressure from barrier 10. Some readiness there, but race experience is the query.

Comment: Made a very encouraging debut when third at this track over 5f, beaten just under a length by Bodmin Moor after being well supported as favourite. He raced keenly early yet was still right there late, which gives the run substance. New to 6f, but improvement makes him the clear top hope.

Comment: Starts his career for Michael Freedman after winning a recent Gold Coast trial, and that is a clean enough pointer for a first-starter in this grade. He was a $120,000 yearling purchase and the stable's debut figures are solid, so the profile is stronger than most unraced runners here. Looks a genuine first-up threat.

Comment: Makes his debut off one Beaudesert trial last month, where he finished fifth, and the evidence is thinner than a few other newcomers in the field. Pedigree has winners, but others bring stronger evidence.

Comment: Worked into the race and held second at Sunshine Coast over 7f last start, beaten just under four lengths by Castaway. That was a clear step in the right direction after a plain seventh at Kembla Grange, where she was big odds and blundered soon after the start. The 6f record keeps her more a place hope.

Comment: Was well found on debut at Eagle Farm but finished eighth, beaten just over seven lengths behind Graffitude after racing handy and coming under pressure late. That market confidence and his earlier trial wins suggest more than he showed first time out, while Archie McColm's 7lbs claim is a practical advantage. Better for the experience, he remains a strong winning chance. Definitely worth forgiving.

Comment: Finished last on debut at this track over 5f, but the margin was only just over two lengths after he began slowly and made ground without threatening. He was big odds and was beaten by Inzain Dragon in that same race, so the exposed form leaves him behind the main hopes. Minor hope.

Comment: Had genuine interference last start at this track, beginning slowly and then being checked near the 3/4f when fourth behind Bodmin Moor, beaten just under a length. That makes the run better than the result reads, and he is fitter again third-up. Fitter third-up and can run well, with the trip still a query.

Comment: Comes out of country grade and faces a harder meeting after finishing seventh at Ballina as a well-supported favourite, beaten just under five lengths but picking up nicely from the back. Her Coffs fourth two starts ago was sound, beaten just under two lengths, yet she remains winless from five. Fitter now, but still winless and unplaced at 6f.

Comment: Led at Doomben last start in mid-week company but was under pressure late and finished second last, beaten seven and a half lengths behind Imminent Appeal. She was unwanted in betting and had no clear excuse. The meeting is easier this time, but her previous Eagle Farm run was also well held, so she has a sizeable form gap to close. Can't entertain.

Comment: Showed improvement when fourth at this track over 5f, beaten three and a half lengths by Zoureka after being steadied approaching the 4f. That was better than her debut at Doomben, where she was last and unwanted in the market. Still has ground to make up on exposed form.

Comment: Comes back from mid-week company after finishing fifth at Eagle Farm, beaten just under ten lengths by Win Star in a small field where she raced keenly. Her Ipswich run prior was also plain, but today's set-up is kinder through weight relief and she is race fit. Capable of rebounding.

Comment: Finished fifth at Gatton last start, beaten four and a half lengths after settling well back and closing off strongly from an awkward position. That was a much better effort than her Pakenham Synthetic run, where she was last and beaten over 16 lengths. The 6f record makes her a place rather than win play.

Comment: Has been honest with consecutive thirds at Kilcoy and Warwick, both times near the top of betting and beaten just over two lengths. The issue is that she remains a 14-start maiden, is unplaced in two runs at this track and has missed a place in all six wet-track starts. Her distance record is solid for placings, but winning remains a difficult assignment. Keeping safe in the minors.

Comment: Drops out of a Class B after finishing fifth at Tara, beaten just under three lengths as favourite, with the stewards noting he lost gear near the 1f and then laid out. He also kept on fairly at Warwick two starts ago. Wet-track record keeps him to place claims.

Comment: Comes back quickly after finishing last in a Class 4 at this track over 1 1/16m, beaten just under five lengths after beginning slowly and settling well back. His Lismore fourth in a BM66 two runs ago was better, with a slow start and a hold-up near the 2 1/2f adding context. He handles wet ground, but three unplaced tries around 1 3/8m and 131lbs leave him as a minor hope only. Looking to others for the winner.

Comment: Won at Sunshine Coast over 1 1/8m last start, travelling sweetly and lifting late to beat Clubman by a long neck as a short odds-on favourite. That built on a sound Class 1 third at this track where she was interfered with in the run and still finished close up. First look at 1 3/8m is the query, but her current form makes her the one to beat.

Comment: Was safely held in BM78 Saturday company at Eagle Farm last start, finishing sixth behind Captain Maverick and beaten just over seven lengths at generous odds. The easier meeting and grade relief help, while his prior Eagle Farm fifth had more merit after racing keenly and being held up near the 3f. Still, he is winless this season and has to lift sharply. Not this time.

Comment: Finished third in a BM66 at Lismore last start, beaten just over three lengths after moving into the race but not sustaining the effort. This is a harder meeting than that country run, even with some grade relief on paper. His prior Grafton fourth in Class 1 company was honest without being decisive, and he looks more a place fringe than a winning play. Preferring others.

Comment: Broke through in a Mdn at Sunshine Coast last start, letting down quickly and beating Highland Kitty by just over three lengths despite racing wide and laying out in the straight. She had earlier made ground from well back when fifth in a Mdn at this track. Strong place profile if she carries that form into BM62 grade.

Comment: Went close at Gold Coast Poly last start, travelling well and finishing second to Fierce Luva, beaten a length and a half as a well-supported favourite. She was only beaten just under three lengths at Eagle Farm two back and had Lord Protector behind her there. First 1 3/8m attempt is the only real query.

Comment: Backs up after a solid BM70 fourth at Sunshine Coast last week, beaten just under two lengths by Prochester after making ground from well back at generous odds. His Gatton fifth as favourite the run prior was less clean after an awkward start and covering ground. Strong winning chance off that run.

Comment: Has improved with each run this campaign and was close up in a BM58 at Gatton last start, finishing third to Quality Miss and beaten a length and a half after being bumped early and steadied near the 3f. His previous Class 3 fourth at this track came when unwanted in the market but still solid. Handles wet ground and profiles as an each-way hope.

Comment: Went close in a BM70 at this track last start, moving into it on the turn and sticking on for third, beaten a length and a half by Brain Wave on soft ground. His BM85 run at Eagle Farm prior was plain after beginning awkwardly, but this sets up far better. With the 7lbs claim, he looks the right horse to beat.

Comment: Led them up in a BM70 at Toowoomba last start but tired late and finished eighth, beaten seven and a half lengths by Bluepinot. Her previous sixth in a Class 6 at this venue was also only fair, with the market treating her as an outside chance. A place is the more realistic aim.

Comment: Backs up quickly after finishing third as favourite in a BM70 at Gold Coast Poly, beaten four and a half lengths by Italian Dancer after racing keenly through the middle stages. The run prior at this track was sound enough when fourth on soft ground behind Little Beginnings. Expecting a sharp bounce back on the turf.

Comment: Was last at this track in a FM BM78 last start, beaten ten lengths by Ratenotice after settling well back and making no impression. That was a sharp contrast to her BM70 win at Sunshine Coast two back, where she worked home from the rear to beat Seneschal by a nose. Proven at 1 1/8m and can bounce back into a placing.

Comment: Arrives in winning form after taking a Class 4 at this track by a long neck from Sir Beveridge, then backing up a narrow BM68 win at Sunshine Coast over 1m. Both wins came by small margins, but he was near the top of an open market last start and delivered. Honest and race-fit, though the 1 1/8m still has to be fully proven.

Comment: Has struggled in two runs this campaign, finishing second last in a BM70 at Sunshine Coast at long odds after making no impression. He was also safely held at this venue two back, beaten just over six lengths behind Little Beginnings. Weight relief helps, but he has plenty to turn around.

Comment: Had some excuses when sixth in a BM70 at Sunshine Coast last start, racing keenly early and being hampered near the 2f before finishing moderately. His previous second in a BM78 at Eagle Farm was much better, beaten just over half a length by Becamo after being held up late. Eagle Farm second two back gives him an each-way angle.

Comment: Worked home solidly from well back for fourth in a BM70 at Sunshine Coast last start, beaten just under two lengths by Prochester at generous odds. He had been a beaten favourite in a BM58 at Gatton prior, where he jumped awkwardly, covered ground and failed to quicken. Still looks more a minor chance than a winning hope.

Comment: Worked home late when fifth in a BM58 over 7 3/4f at Gold Coast Poly last start, beaten just under three lengths after racing keenly through the middle stages. His previous run was a heavy defeat in Open grade at Toowoomba, so the class drop and first-time blinkers give him some assistance. The new 1 1/8m task and top weight still leave him with plenty to prove against sharper recent form. Looking to others for the winner.

Comment: Closed from well back for third in a Class 2 over 5f at this track last week, beaten just over three lengths after being steadied leaving the 4f. He had been solid in a BM65 here two back and returns to a distance where he has one win and two placings from three starts at this venue. A genuine place hope if he runs up to that profile.

Comment: Eased back from metro company after finishing seventh in a Doomben Class 2, beaten three and a half lengths by Toro Strike while racing keenly mid-race. She was only beaten just under five lengths in a BM65 at this track first-up, and now peaks third-up with a 7lbs claim. Strong winning case in this grade.

Comment: Went close in a BM58 at Gold Coast Poly last start, finishing second to Mr Bubbaluski and beaten just over half a length after being steadied near the 3/4f. That was a clear lift on his earlier seventh at this track, where he was easily accounted for late. Still has to back it up against deeper claims.

Comment: Had excuses when sixth in a BM60 over 1 1/4m at Gold Coast Poly, beginning awkwardly and being hampered near the 3 1/2f, but he was still beaten over 10 lengths. The start prior was also plain when last at this track and unwanted in the market. Others look better placed.

Comment: Narrowly missed in a BM58 over 1m at Sunshine Coast last start, finishing second to Kobability and beaten a head after moving into it strongly. That followed a sound fourth in a CG BM58 at Warwick when he began slowly and worked home well. Should be hitting his straps now and can get the job done.

Comment: Broke through in a Mdn at this track last start, beating Five Of Us by just over two lengths on soft ground after picking up strongly despite a few manners notes. She had been narrowly beaten at Beaudesert before that, so the form is trending the right way. Harder now, but the local win gives her a base to build from.

Comment: Placed in a small-field BM58 at this track last week, finishing third to Tambourine Man and beaten three and a half lengths after travelling well before weakening. The Gatton run prior was much weaker, beaten just over nine lengths after beginning awkwardly. A place chance, though the winning edge is still the query.

Comment: Faces harder company after finishing third in a BM55 at Tara, beaten seven and a half lengths in a small field when near the top of betting. His Eagle Farm run prior was a long last after jumping awkwardly and racing wide. Weight relief, an apprentice claim and first-time blinkers are positives, but his unplaced 1 1/8m record and recent margins make him a risky proposition. Prefer others.

Comment: Ran a much better race at Sunshine Coast last start, finishing third in a BM60 and beaten just under a length at big odds after being slow away. She had also made late ground without threatening in a Class 2 there the run prior. More a place chance than a likely winner.

Comment: Second-up on a quick back-up after a fifth at Gold Coast Poly, beaten four and a half lengths, where he jumped awkwardly, bumped, had an equipment issue and was hampered late. His Beaudesert second on soft ground before that reads better, and the 7lbs claim helps offset the top weight. The 7lbs claim helps, but 5f still looks more place than win.

Comment: Kept on for fourth in a BM66 at Ballina when resuming, beaten four and a half lengths in country grade, and now meets a harder meeting while dropping back from that grade. He has won at this distance, though one win from ten attempts around 5f tempers the enthusiasm. Has to find a stronger finish.

Comment: Returns from a three-month spell with a Dalby trial win behind him, which is a useful readiness pointer for the new stable. He ended last campaign sixth at this track in a Class 1 at long odds, after a well-beaten Sunshine Coast run where market support was not justified. Last campaign ended plainly, but the 5f record and rider booking keep him a place hope.

Comment: Resumed with a solid third at this track, beaten two and a half lengths by Zavega after blundering, and he was respected near the top of betting. His previous run in Class 1 company over 7f was only moderate after beginning awkwardly and covering ground. Back at 5f, he looks one of the main chances.

Comment: Returns from a six-week freshening after being beaten over 12 lengths at this venue, though racing wide throughout gives some context to that poor run. He was also safely held at Gatton before that when big odds. Has won at 5f, but recent form leaves him with a lot to prove.

Comment: Had excuses when fifth in a Class 2 over 4f at Ipswich last week, racing wide around the home turn and finishing just over four lengths from Miss Mclaren. His Toowoomba fifth in BM65 grade two back was plain, but he is race fit, suited back around 5f and handles wet ground. The short back-up is the query, but he can place.

Comment: Had excuses when sixth in a BM65 at Sunshine Coast on soft ground, beginning slowly and being held up before finishing four and a half lengths from Oohlalouvre. She had earlier tackled BM78 company at Ipswich over 4f and lacked a turn of foot. Wet-track record helps; winning edge is the remaining question.

Comment: Broke through at this track and trip first-up, travelling well just off the lead before beating Texas by just under a length on soft ground in a Mdn. He rises to a deeper BM58 task and has a wider draw, but the track-and-trip win, wet-track record and unbeaten partnership with Boris Thornton make a strong case. Drawn sticky but has returned in good touch and can make it two on the bounce.

Comment: Was sound enough when fifth over 6f at this track last start, beaten three and a half lengths at generous odds, and she now gets meaningful weight relief from that run. Her BM70 effort at Eagle Farm two back was poor despite some wide-running pressure. Best considered for the wider exotics.

Comment: Worked home from well back when fifth in a BM66 at Ballina, beaten just over five lengths after being slow to begin. That was country grade and she now faces a harder meeting, albeit with a 7lbs claim to assist. Her overall place record is respectable, but she has not won often and the wide barrier asks her to produce a much sharper second-up run. Each-way chance.

Comment: Was beaten over 10 lengths at this track last start after racing wide without cover, and her previous run here was another heavy defeat. Weight relief helps and she has a past win at this venue, while the distance record is better than the latest form suggests. Sharp improvement required.

Comment: Went very close at Sunshine Coast last start, finishing third and beaten a neck by Sapana's Pearl after being sent out favourite and racing wide throughout. His previous fifth there on soft ground was also close enough to rate, beaten just over two lengths. Race fit, proven at 5f and right among the winning chances.

Comment: Offered little when second last in a Class 1 at Doomben, beaten just under ten lengths at big odds, and there was no clear excuse. Today is an easier meeting than that mid-week assignment, but he rises in weight and his record around 5f is poor, with no wins or placings from 12 attempts. Others are preferred.

Comment: Had excuses in a BM65 at Sunshine Coast last week, racing wide throughout before finishing sixth, beaten just under four lengths, after being near the top of an open market. He had also covered ground when seventh in a BM65 at this venue, beaten only a length and a half. Gets the right setup to go close.

Comment: Returns from a four months spell after ending the last campaign with a nose win in a Mdn over 1 1/8m at this track, beating Bomb Perignon after a tight tussle. He had been favourite when third to Bon Riviere at this venue the start before and has trialled at Gold Coast two weeks ago. Local Mdn win helps, but 7f fresh asks more.

Comment: Worked home fairly when sixth in a BM65 at this track last start, beaten three and a half lengths by Till Dusk after racing keenly through the middle stages. Two back he was fourth in a BM55 at Toowoomba after covering ground. BM65 run here was sound enough to rate highly.

Comment: Had genuine excuses when sixth at Sunshine Coast over 1m last start, with stewards noting he was steadied and then raced keenly before fading late. The run prior was a close fifth in a BM66 at Lismore where he was sent out favourite and beaten just over a length. Back to 7f suits his winning profile.

Comment: Comes through a convincing Sunshine Coast win, beating Clubhouse by just over a length despite being hampered and then held up early in the straight. That followed an encouraging fifth in a FM Class 1 when she began awkwardly and finished off nicely from well back. Third-up profile keeps her in the mix.

Comment: Returns from a one month freshening after a plain seventh in a Class 2 at Doomben, beaten six and a half lengths at long odds despite some bumping in the straight. He was also safely held at Ipswich two back when unwanted in the market. Easier company helps, but recent figures are still hard to recommend.

Comment: Returns from a lengthy spell after dropping out to finish last at Kembla Grange in a BM64 before the break, beaten over 12 lengths with no abnormality reported. Her Canberra second over 1m earlier in that campaign reads much better, and two trials since last racing give some readiness. Earlier form had merit, but the last run before the spell was poor.

Comment: Was slow away and never got into the race when second last first-up at Warwick, beaten just under nine lengths in country grade. He now comes to a harder meeting, though the step to 7f is more suitable on a record that includes two wins and two placings around the trip. His wet-track win is a plus, but he has to produce a much sharper second-up effort. Looking to others.

Comment: Was unwanted in the market and beaten seven and a half lengths in a Class 1 at this venue last week, with an awkward start and wide run adding some context without fully excusing the result. She had been beaten six and a half lengths here seven days earlier at big odds. Class drop helps only a little on current form.

Comment: Improved last start when third at Gold Coast Poly over 7 3/4f, beaten a length and a half by Mr Bubbaluski after leading and travelling well. His previous Beaudesert seventh in a BM55 was only fair, but the quick back-up suits and the winning rider returns. Track-and-trip credentials make him a place player.

Comment: Has been last at both runs this campaign, most recently in a Class 5 at this track when beaten seven and a half lengths at big odds with no clear excuse. Two back he was beaten over 16 lengths in Open company and unwanted in the market. Third-up improvement is possible and the class setup is kinder, but his 7f record points more to a minor hope than a strong winning case. Can't entertain.

Comment: Had some merit in a sixth at Gold Coast Poly last start, beaten three lengths after racing wide from the 5 1/2f. The prior Beaudesert eighth also had excuses, with a slow start, a bump on the home turn and a held-up passage late. Minor claims if she finds improvement.

Comment: Eased back from mid-week company after finishing last in a Class 3 at Doomben, beaten just over seven lengths behind Spiethtacular without offering a late excuse. His Eagle Farm fifth prior came as a well-supported favourite after an awkward start, and the 7lbs claim offsets the top weight. Top chance if he produces his better form.

Comment: Second-up after an eighth in a Class 4 at this track, where he raced wide throughout and was beaten just under four lengths by Propaganda. The run prior was a narrow Ipswich second behind Blazing Harry on soft ground, so there is a better performance in the profile. Even so, he is unplaced from two starts at this venue and has to improve sharply to trouble the main chances. Looking to others for the winner.

Comment: Had excuses when sixth in a Class 4 at this track last start, racing wide throughout and being steadied before closing off from the rear to be beaten three and a half lengths. He had won a BM65 at Toowoomba the run prior, beating Jacka Stands Alone with something in hand. That gives him some claims, but he still has to turn those closing efforts into a sharper result at this level. Can fill a minor spot.

Comment: Comes off a seventh in a Class 3 at Doomben where he was slow away, unwanted in the market and beaten six and a half lengths by Spiethtacular. His previous Eagle Farm fourth had more merit, making late ground from an awkward start on soft going. Place claims look fairest.

Comment: Was far from disgraced when fifth in a BM64 at Newcastle, beaten a length and a half by Puerto Banus after settling just off the lead. That followed a determined Class 3 win at Scone, where he beat Beaumista by a nose as favourite on soft ground. Strong winning hope.

Comment: Has put together consecutive seconds, most recently beaten half a length by Better Not Slip in a BM62 at this track after racing wide and still finishing strongly. She had earlier gone under by only a head at Sunshine Coast in a BM65, so the form is honest. Must turn the tables on Better Not Slip to win.

Comment: Steps from country grade into harder company after going down by a nose in a Class 3 at Lismore, where he knuckled on jumping and was pipped late by Jukebox In Siberia. His previous Lismore third was also solid as favourite, beaten just over half a length behind Swifties. Doesn't need to improve much to land the blow.

Comment: Resumed with a well-supported BM62 win at this track, beating Cryptic Beauty by half a length after travelling sweetly and finishing off strongly. Her previous Doomben fourth in a Class 1 came on soft ground and reads soundly enough for this. Class rise is there, but she has upside and winning momentum.

Comment: Worked home nicely for fourth in a Class 1 at Doomben first-up, beaten just under three lengths behind Cardonette after settling well back. He had placed in Open grade at Doomben before that, albeit beaten just over four lengths. The move into easier company from that latest mid-week run is helpful, and he can land in the money if he builds on the resumption. Keeping safe in the minors.

Comment: Third-up after a seventh in a country Class 1 at Lismore, where he led to the turn and worked home evenly when beaten just under three lengths by Bellarata. He was also beaten just under five lengths as favourite at Ipswich two back, so recent form is modest. Others appeal more.

Comment: Covered ground throughout when last at this track first-up, beaten just under six lengths after being near the top of an open market. His Ipswich fourth before that was far stronger, beaten just over two lengths on soft ground, and his 6f record reads well with two wins and four placings. A rebound puts him in the place mix.

Comment: Held his ground when fifth in a BM72 at Toowoomba last start, beaten two and a half lengths after being an outside chance in betting. He was also close enough in a Class 5 at Ipswich two runs back, and this class drop suits a runner with four wins at the distance. Drawn wide, but his recent BM72 run reads well for this.

Comment: Drops from a BM80 after finishing sixth at Toowoomba, beaten three and a half lengths, with interference noted early in the race. He had placed third in a Class 6 at Eagle Farm before that, albeit well held by Fukubana in a small field. Looks a reliable place hope if he handles this venue first time.

Comment: Returns from a lengthy spell with a solid second at Toowoomba Inner Track in his latest trial. He ended last preparation with a sixth at Ipswich behind Run Lucy Run, beaten just over four lengths, after racing keenly, and had earlier run third at Eagle Farm. Fitness under race pressure is the key.

Comment: Eases back from Saturday company after finishing sixth in an Open at Eagle Farm, beaten nine lengths and unwanted in the market. The Sunshine Coast run prior was also plain, with Jimmy's Brother beating him by five and a half lengths after he was again at long odds. Blinkers come off, but his record at this distance is poor and Dark Tszyu must find a major form turnaround. Looking to others.

Comment: Resumed with a sound third at this track over 5f, beaten just over three lengths by Propaganda after working into the race. His previous run was a BM78 fifth at Ipswich, beaten two and a half lengths, so the form depth is useful for this. Lerena back aboard makes him a clear winning threat.

Comment: Failed as favourite in a Class 5 over 7f at this track last start, finishing fifth and beaten three lengths after failing to quicken. The run prior at Beaudesert was much sharper, closing to within just over half a length after beginning awkwardly. Can put it all together fourth-up.

Comment: Returns from a lengthy spell after two plain runs in January. He was fifth at Eagle Farm at his final run before the break, beaten just over six lengths in mid-week company, after beginning awkwardly, and had been eighth in a BM82 at Coffs Harbour before that. Recent race form leaves him with plenty to prove.

Comment: Closed off nicely from well back when fifth in a NMW at this track first-up, beaten just over three lengths after being slow to begin. She is a track-and-trip winner with two wins at this venue, and the class drop is a significant positive. Blinkers off, but she has the right second-up platform.

Comment: Returns from a lengthy spell and has had four trials, with the latest third at Gold Coast expected to bring him on. He was fifth in a BM70 at Eagle Farm at his final run before the break, beaten three and a half lengths after beginning slowly and being hampered, following a sound third behind Cho Oyu. Has ability, but the absence is a serious hurdle.

Comment: Had excuses in an Open at Lismore last start, finishing eighth but only beaten four lengths after being bumped and racing wide through the middle stages. She had won a Class 3 there two back, driving late to beat Enhance by a nose on soft ground. Wet-track record keeps her in the place discussion.

Comment: Returns from a one-month freshening after finishing last first-up at Beaudesert, beaten seven lengths by Music Fever after settling back. He did trial at Doomben two weeks ago and his 6f record is strong, but the latest race performance was plain and Outakandy had him covered at Beaudesert. The 6f record is good, but recent form has to improve markedly.

Comment: Was fifth at this track first-up over 5f, beaten three and a half lengths after travelling up but proving only fair late. She is a two-time winner at this venue and has solid 6f credentials, which keeps her from being dismissed completely. Improvement is required.

Comment: Backs up quickly after a third on the Gold Coast Poly in a BM58, beaten just under two lengths after jumping awkwardly and racing wide throughout. His fourth at this track two back came at big odds behind Propaganda, so he is going better than his longer-term profile suggests. Wet-track record and weight relief make him a place hope.

Comment: Worked home evenly for third in a FM BM58 at this track last start, beaten just over three lengths by Adora Djon's. The prior BM70 run at Sunshine Coast was less convincing, with Smoke On The Water beating her by six and a half lengths. Keeping safe for a minor spot.

Comment: Was not beaten far in a BM58 at Lismore last start, finishing sixth by just over two lengths after picking up well from midfield. That was a harder meeting shift from country grade today, but he does get weight relief and has won at this distance from limited tries. A repeat puts him around the minor money.
